New Face Hangs on Walls of State Hall of History

Looking down from the picture covered walls of the State Hall of History yesterday was a new face a face Union soldiers during the Civil War would be eager to see along the sights of a loaded rifle.

The new picture is a portrait of John White Commissioner in Great Britain during the War Between the States. The piece was presented to the Historical Commission by White's grandson and namesake John White Arrington of Greenville S. C.

Born in Kirkcaldy, Fifeshire Scotland in 1814, John White came to U. S. and of it and settled in Warrenton N. C.

During Civil War when N. C. was in need of clothing and supplies for its Confederate troops - White went to England as agent for the State Reaching England late in 1862 - he was instrumental in purchasing the famous blockade running Advance - He also bought large quantities of guns and other army supplies. After the war he returned to his home in Warrenton where he died in 1894 - The John White Camp for Confederate Veterans is named for him.
It is quite a coincidence that during this summer two John Whites both of whom played a part in N Chesley are being featured! - One as the State agent to England during War and other is the John White Governor of Lost Colony - of Roanoke Island
