241
Whereas John Pearson of the County of Stanford hath set forth to the Proprietor's Office that there is five hundred acres of land in Stanhope, County of New Jersey, which is not yet granted. The premises described being part of great hunting Creek called Road Island, lying to Neotsfield, Col. Mason having moved for a warrant to survey the same land, being ready to pay survey and office fees.

I have therefore empowered you to survey the land for the said Pearson — Provided this to be the first warrant for survey for the same, and upon return of your survey with the bounds described, the charges are to be paid. The survey and office charges is to have a deed duly executed for the land at any time between the date hereof and the 31st Day of next ensuing.

To: Mr. T. Woodburn, surveyor of the county of N.C. Given under my hand and the seal of the office this 17th Day of June 1729.

Robert Carter
